“ I met Mike at The University of Oklahoma where we shared the same dorm. He asked me my major and I told him electrical engineering. I asked him his and he told me English. I immediately quoted the first line of Chaucer's Canterbury Tales in Old English. (It was almost all the poetry I knew, but he didn't know that.) He pounced on the idea that even though I was an EE major there was a slim possibility I might have a brain. I sometimes worked on his chair replacing spokes and keeping the wheels aligned. We even double dated. We stayed friends and I last visited him within the last five or six years. Mike was definitely one of the good guys.

“ We offer our condolences to Don's family. We have had the pleasure of knowing Don for a few years as his drivers to dialysis. It was always a pleasure having Don on the bus, comparing restaurants, discussing the world problems, etc. Don will be missed.
