“ One time when we went up north to a craft show, we shared a cabin he woke up in the morning half asleep and brushed his teeth with Cortizone. "Looked like a tube of Colgate " he said We laughed hard, even harder when my brother said he could eat position ivy that day in his salad.

“ Goodbye to you dear Brother,
You deserve eternal rest,
You cared so much for everyone
And always did your best.
Partings come and hearts are broken,
Loved ones go with words unspoken,
Deep in my heart there's a memory kept,
For a Brother I'll never forget...
RIP..
Love,

“ While enjoying a few adult beverages with Gilbert (a number of years ago in suburban Washington D.C. hotel bar, around the same time that the Washington Redskins were interviewing for a new head coach) we had two gentlemen that began asking the general questions for business travelers, who you are, where ya from, etc..... I simply asked for privacy and explained that Gilbert was in town "on business". When Gil went to the restroom, I leaned over to the guy next to me, and indicated that this was Wayne Fontes (the Ex Detroit Lions Head Coach - as Gil could have been his twin) and they he didn't want to be disturbed. The guy proceeded to the business center and actually printed a picture of Wayne Fontes and brought it back to the bar. He was convinced that was him. The next morning, Gil called me in my room in a panic saying, "We have to go, we have to go immediately. I have people here asking for autographs. The cook came out of the kitchen and wanted to take pictures with me. He has called his mother to come and meet me, we need to go". LOL.....

RIP Gil....

“ I just met Gilbert in the last couple of years, but he was one of the nicest people. He talked about just wanting to enjoy what ever time he had, and the time he was able to spend with his grandchildren. I know he will be greatly missed.

“ I remember Gilbert back in the late 1950,s, when he was working at the la Paloma groceries store,next to the Mexican Village Rest on Bagley and 18th,and he had a Ford,that barely ran, and hardly had no brakes,but Gilbert never complained,when we chipped in for gas,to go looking for girls,and the girls all thought that car so cool,when the guys were all praying,every time we had to stop,they thought we were joking, but that car and Gilbert never let us down,every body liked Gilbert,I never met any one who didn,t ,from his old old friend Richard Ali (RIP) OLD FRIEND

“ My funniest memory is when Gilbert and Micheal were fishing and Gilbert wasn't listening to what Mike was telling him. Gilbert was trying to row back to show and he kept going, in circles. One row this side, two on the other. Finally with Gilbert being determined and showing Micheal how its done, they made it to shore. Then Mike got to tell him, "Dad you forgot to pull the anchor up!" Cheryl of course was about busting at the seams crying laughing. Great memory! He laughed by the way too.
