“ Humanity, as an individual, has the great ability and capacity to change lives, even if it only changes one and even if it only changes us, within.

For some, wondering how or if we ever will make any impact in the world varies; however, with the loss of a loved one, the light and impact of our loved one begins to shine. It brings comfort and peace. Sean impacted my life, my love for our nation, and through him made me recognize God is incomparably greater than anything we can say or think about Him.

It all started with my open heart, a scared and unknowing, yet, willing open heart in a time of family chaos. Admittedly, Sean was a part of that chaos. Humility and Pride begins to be tamed and disciplined by Sean's willingness to reach across the table along with his smile:). Through our friendship, he taught me Truth in Forgiveness, Truth in Giving, Truth in Compassion, Truth in Service to one another and our Nation, Truth in Patience, and Truth in "it's ok and right" to Let Go of that which holds one back.

How? We do not simply proceed from the darkness of ignorance into the light of knowledge. It is our human connection, Sean-Jaylene, that we begin to realise how little we understand and take a hold of this and become aware of such mystery(ies). The mystery of not being baffled, yet, something that is revealed for our understanding, but which we never understand exhaustively. What is revealed, often times, is Purpose. I see the Purpose, yet, am sad our time was cut a little short until we are rejoined in full communion of our Lord in full knowledge of what IS. I believe this with 100% of my heart.

Let this also be a somber time to never forget the cost of our Freedom. The Freedom we enjoy has great depth and price. Frankly, Sean bore much burden for our life to be lived Free. He served unselfishly to help those oppressed and to ensure our way of life was protected. Independence, liberty, civilization: these are not easy to bear; they are hard to bear. It seems it is difficult for many to understand this concept and I encourage my fellow American to stand up for our veterans, stand up for Sean, and look your Freedom in the eyes and embrace and feel your Freedom. Semper Fi, Sean, my brother-your Air Force Sister xoxox

St. Symeon the New Theologian....

"As a friend talking with his friend, man speaks with God, and drawing near in confidence he stands before the face of the One who dwells in light unapproachable"...speaking with Sean is a time I felt closest to Him (God), exploring Purpose, as well as my own, thinking of ways to be better, kinder, more compassionate, and to give more in a world that can be both beautiful and mean.

Lord, remember me when thou comest into they kingdom Luke 23:42...Love you Sean! You Impacted and Leveled-Up my Life-Forever Grateful moxoxoxoxoxoxo
