“ I remember, when me, Mitchell, Hannah and Adam went to the fusion allnighter. We watched the pistons game together and cheered on! We supported the team and shared food with each other. We talked about random and silly things. Adam always had these funny but smart theories that in someway could be possibly true. I also, remember when I got bullied in 6th and 7th grade Adam was by my side. He told me everything would be okay and to stay strong. I sat at his lunch table and we talked mainly about history. It was actually really interesting. Adam always made a spot for you in his heart, if you were a stranger or not. He made me a stronger individual. He knew that I always walked in the hallways alone In the Highschool most of the time. He always looked at me and smiled or waved. Giving me a sign to never give up. He was my only friend when I had no one to go too or be with.
