“ Basil, you've known me my entire life, you have been the most lovable curmudgeon. When I was recovering from knee surgery; you came to visit. You randomly checked in on me once I moved to Michigan. You were a staple at holidays and you happily took all the good natured ribbing and you have it right back. And the way you just up and left shortly after dessert. We joked about that. You will be missed. - Kimberly Dolejsi

God rest your soul. You will always be remembered for your sense of humor and your kindness that you expressed to my mother and father when they were alive. My mother had a special place in her heart for you and often spoke to me about you and your early years when you were growing up. You embraced our Finnish heritage and gave your best in anything that you did. You will be deeply missed but not forgotten. We will cherish the memories that we have. Sisu, my cousin. I met Basil when his Father-in-Law married my mother. He instantly made an Impression on me, always Kind & Friendly. Loved to tell jokes, have fun. Was Great to the younger children. Basil was "One In A Million", type of Guy.
