“ Aunt Betty, it's been a week since you passed into the ultimate gardens of Hevean. So I imagine by now you're explaining to God how much better the plants will look if He is allowing you to take care of them. Most of the my memories of you revole in and around a garden. From planting seeds to harvesting the crop. I remember the anticipation of the first strawberries we would pick, and you teaching me how to make jam as a young wife! The hours spent by your side! Laughing till we cried, as we washed jars, pickled cukes, pulled weeds smashed potatoe bugs! There are no more words to say, that express how you have made such an important impact on my life and who I am today! I love you ! Now you missed that weed right there...

“ Betty I know you are an angel in heaven. I will miss seeing you gardening with your floppy hat, you showing me the puzzles you put together, you giving me crafts that you made, you cooking, our camping and boating trip, us going to Luckys together for dinner and our talks. I'll always remember the first time I came to your house for dinner you said “Your putting more salt on your food? So, back on the table the salt shaker went. Betty, I miss and love you. I know you are in a better place, at peace and back to good health. Until we meet again.....

“ I remember going to Aunt Betty and Uncle Don's house as a small child along with all my other cousins. We picked blueberries and camped out in the living room wearing Uncle Don's t-shirts for pj's. Such a wonderful, vivacious and fun lady! I have treasured that memory for years. Deb
