My grandma was honestly the most important person to me as a child. I would do anything just to have one more sleepover at her house with my cousins. Just being able to spend all day playing house with her phone that didn't work. Being able to make our own beds in front of her tv and being woken up by her dogs licking our faces and grandpa would ask us what we wanted for breakfast from Burger King or McDonalds. There's one time I'll never forget. I went over there to spend the night with Manda and Macie when I was about 8 years old and my grandma thought that my legs were too hairy so she took me outside and put cream all over my legs that are meant for your upper lip so it would take the hair away. The whole time she was doing this my aunt tita kept saying that my mom was going to be so mad when she saw that my legs were shaved but my grandma could honestly care less. She even told me she would convince mom to let me get a razor so my legs wouldn't get hairy like that again. I love grandma you're always in my heart.

“ *The summertime glory of her backyard,
We walked through together
Bright, vibrant colors blooming all around.
Those steps we took so carelessly,
Thinking we'd always have those days
We took for granted as time ticked by,
The summer ended and those blooms died.
A cup of coffee, perfectly brewed
To warm our insides, as the cold wind blew.
Snow on the ground, the season changed
We were left alone with no one to blame.
Why was it time, only God knows
The bitter goodbye kiss of a Mother's love.*

“ Worked with Carol at the Depot and she was always there for a smile and a laugh. She was family to me and many others that knew her. I'm so glad she got to see my little girl the last time I saw her.

“ Carol was such a nice hearted person. So many of us remember from kindergarten with Mrs. Mackie way back in Davisburg. Rest in peace my great classmate. You were a shining light to many of us.

“ Carol was my best friend throughout our elementary school years; fortunately we've remained friends until now. I will miss her very much. I was on my way down to the funeral and have had to turn back so I must say my good bye this way. Sending my sympathy and prayers to Elsie, Jim, Shirley and all of Carol's children and grandchildren. Love and prayers, Suze Walker

“ We send our deepest condolences to Jim and the family. Carol was certainly a special lady - she lived next door to my mother and was a watchful eye when we could not be there - she will truly be missed - God Bless you Jim as you go through the mourning process for your dear wife. We truly are thankful to have known her. Richard and Gail Scott [daughter of Gladys Castle]

“ Carol was a special lady....shared many laughs during my 6 a.m. "nail" appt. Always had the coffee pot on and shared pictures of the kids and grandkids...Her pride in her flower gardens was an envy of the neighbors. Always teaching me what to plant and still have some snips she would cut to have me grow....Peace to all....Butchie

“ I have worked with Carol at The Home Depot for six years. Not only was she my dear friend but also she was like a Mother to me. She lifted me and made me laugh all the time. She would take me to lunch and treat me. One day she and I went to Crackle Barrel for lunch and it was such a pleasure for me to treat her to lunch. Carol still felt the need to treat me so she bought me a Hello Kitty doll from the gift shop and I will always treasure my gift from my very special and dear friend. I love Carol and will miss her.
