“ Dear Family of Helen Doner, Our Heartfelt Condolences to your Family!! I met Helen when I was her letter carrier when She lived in Ohio, and We became friends as she was a Very Nice & True caring person who loved fur babies!! My Husband & I were sad to see her move to N.Carolina, but were also Very Happy for her to be Much closer to her caring Family!! I Will always remember her True Caring Heart & kindness & cherish memories of Our conversations!! She gave Me a Very Special book She had bought from one of the sales She went to, from the Book of John!! I/We Pray She knew Jesus as her Lord & Savior & She's resting in Heaven now ❤️🙏🌸 Sincerely, Becky & Jeff Nichols

“ Here is a poem I wrote for her & my mother. I got the idea from my favorite writer Louisa May Alcott's own poem for her loving sister:

*One less at our table.
One less number to call.
One less present to wrap for.
One less to visit at the door.*

*Now there is an angel in our house.
Never leaving our side.
Looking out for our family.
While we live out our lives.*

*One less member of our family.
One more angel in heaven.
One more angel watching over me.*

*One less tear to be falling.
No more pain will you suffer.
You are free as can be.*

*Cancer may have one the battle.
But your memories won't die you see.
That part of you lives on.*

*It will be in my heart.
I know one more angel.
An angel in my house.*

Sitting next to me....

For My Aunt!

“ I am her niece. Second one. I used to spend my summers with her and my grandmother out in Toledo. Those were the best memories. Going to Cedar Point together. Watching movies to. She always had something fun planned for me when I got there. Then when they all moved to NC we got to go to the ocean every summer. Then I got to take my kids to see them they loved going to the ocean every summer. I will miss those fun times we all had. RIP we love you aunt Junie. She always had us call her June instead of Helen.

“ She loved her family and her pets (fur babies) very much. She did a lot to help homeless pets, even though she didn't have a lot to give. She truly was a very caring person. The world needs more people like her! She was also blessed with some great friends that helped her along the rough path that she was given. Thank you Jeri for looking out for her.

She was a wonderful friend and a very caring, generous, thoughtful person. She would do anything she could to help her friends and family and it was my privilege to do what little I could when she needed help herself. She was strong and determined to the end and I will miss her greatly. Jeri
