“ My Gramma June has always been the Best. My earliest memories were when she lived right above my mom and I, I must have only been 3 years old. She always babysit me while my mom was working. I remember playing with the Hamburgler, from her box of old McDonalds toys, which she still had when I was a teenager. I would visit for weeks at a time after I moved to Michigan, every break from school, I was there. We had tons of late night trips to Meijers, and I was always a grandmas girl, so I always got to pick out a couple things, which added up, cuz we went ALOT. She came to every single Dance Recital I had, and was always so proud of me, she always said I danced like an angel, even if I messed up terribly ❤️

Once she moved to Michigan, I was at her house almost everyday. The minute I walked in, she always made sure I wasn't hungry. Her apartment became a home away from home for me. She was not only my gramma, she was mom when I needed her to be, she was my sister, my confidant, and my very best friend. She taught me a lot of things, but mostly she taught me how to love unconditionally. Im so happy she was there to help mold me into the woman I am today. I'm grateful that my kids got the time with her that they did. I cannot put into words how much I love her, and miss her, but I am thankful for every single memory I have.

Gramma, I love you to the moon and back. ❤️

“ June had a beautiful smile, contagious laugh and wonderful sense of humor. She loved her family deeply, and will certainly be missed. One of my funniest memories, are when Steve would accompany her on one of her bingo outings. With all of her cards, and her favorite daubers, she was a force to be reckoned with. Her legacy will live on through her family. Rest in eternal peace, June ❤️

She really was a force to be reckoned with! When I went with her she would be chugging along with about 30 cards, keeping right up, all while catching every number I missed on my 4 cards (I was blind, I missed a lot) 🙄👧 She'd randomly reach over and dab a number- "ya missed one!" 💜💜

That's so funny! That's pretty much the same experience Steve had when he went with her. She really loved playing bingo, and was really lucky at it ❤️
