Kristine “Kris” Lynn Hall

March 16, 1966 – November 25, 2025

With profound love and deep sorrow, we honor the life of Kristine “Kris” Lynn Hall, a woman whose kindness, courage, and generous spirit touched everyone who knew her. Born on March 16, 1966, in Holly, Michigan, Kris grew up in a close-knit community that helped shape her into the warm, resilient, and giving soul she became.

From childhood, Kris carried an innate warmth that made others feel seen and welcomed. She had a laugh that could soften even the hardest day and a strength that showed itself in her compassion, forgiveness, and unwavering loyalty to those she loved.

In her early adulthood, Kris proudly served in the United States Navy, where she developed lifelong friendships and a deeper sense of purpose. Her service shaped her resilience and dedication, traits she carried throughout her life.

To Kris, motherhood was her greatest calling. Her love for her son, Alec Hall, was limitless, guiding every choice she made. That love grew even brighter when she became a grandmother to Cooper, Ethan, and Annebelle Hall, who were the light of her life.

Kris is also survived by her loving parents, William and Sharon Foy, and by her siblings, who knew her as a steady presence, a confidant, and a protector. Family was the heart of everything she did, shown in her actions, her sacrifices, and her constant support.

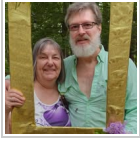

Those who knew Kris will remember her as someone good to her core—a woman who would give the shirt off her back, who listened without judgment, and who showed up for others even when she faced her own battles. She endured hardships, including brain surgery and cancer, with remarkable courage and grace. Despite everything, her instinct was always to comfort others.

Kris loved deeply—through her words, her presence, her laughter, and her unwavering compassion. Her legacy is one of strength, kindness, and selfless love. Though she is no longer with us, her impact will echo for generations in the hearts of all who were blessed to know her.

She will be forever loved and dearly missed.
