“ My Aunt Theresa is a genuinely remarkable and honorable person worthy of tributes and God’s promise of eternal life.

Theresa had a truly astonishing capacity to love others unconditionally. Her willingness to grasp a difficult situation, discern what support she could provide and then offer it without hesitation literally changed lives for the better. Theresa’s ever steadfast and unassuming approach also served her well too. Clearly no trial or tribulation withstood Theresa’s self-determination to lead an admirable life of quiet, peaceful dignity.

In closing, old soldiers never die, they just fade away. I take solace in knowing Theresa’s remains will be laid to rest in Great Lakes National Cemetery in Holly, Michigan, near the home she and her beloved husband Larry raised their children Johnny, James, Shawn, and Hailey and welcomed my Great Uncle Andrew.

"Who then is the faithful and wise servant, whom the master has put in charge of his household, to give the others their food at the proper time? Blessed is that servant whose master finds him doing so when he returns". (Matthew 24:45-46)

“ Thinking about my sister --years of memories I realized how much she was like my mom. I didn't notice it till now. She was a very giving person. I had to think really hard when did I ever see her mad ? I couldn't think of a single time where she got angry and screamed or swore or whatever people do when they are mad. She just kind of accepted life as it came and made the best of it. She took my Uncle in when he had nowhere to go and he was very happy living with the family. She became a foster parent and then adopted all those great kids. And you knew she loved her kids. She loved her husband who she used to say was her best friend. She was a great sister. She called me every holiday and always tried to include me in the outings. She never complained even when she was in the hospital sick and scared. I love my sister Theresa and she will always be in my heart.

“ Theresa, the quiet one, after she became ill was always laughing and sounding like her mother Lucille. So, we would laugh with her and say ok Lucille. She was devastated when my mother passed and it is only right that she will share the same cemetery. Though her body will rest at Great Lakes National cemetery her spirit will live on in the hearts of all who loved her. I pray that she will guide us all to become outgoing, to laugh again, and remember how precious this time is together and apart. Love to everyone who was blessed to have known her even for just a little while.
