“ Todd, was my first crush when I saw him on his bicycle at the Holly party shoppe I was at the counter and he smiled as he reached for some pretzels. School started not long after that and I would make a point of walking by his locker just to get a glimpse of him, I remember him in his football jersey □,years. After I graduated, I got a job at the same party. Store and Todd would still come in so I was able to get to know him better and I loved his personality ironically enough after that job I went to a job typing up documents for Delphi and we had to get a laminating machine so we went to their place and all of us workers went there for training and Todd and Mike trained us again. It was another great day. I will definitely miss my first crush. 😭
