“ My sincere condolences to Virginia family.I know it's not easy to deal with at this moment. May God "who comforts us in all our trials" (2 Cor 1:4) comfort you and your family at such a difficult time. I know God will help you to endure because He invites us to approach Him in prayer, to pour out our heart to him. (Psalm 62:8) Please find comfort in knowing that God understands your grief and He cares for you (1Peter 5 :7).

“ Ginny was a sweet, kind-hearted person whom I was honored to call my class-mate. I'm so grateful I was able to see her again at our reunion. I hadn't seen her for decades, but recognized her immediately. RIP, sweet lady!

In the short time that I was honored to know Ginny she was always caring and looking out for me in giving me extras she may have from a food bank, getting me a birthday gift, finding a treasure she thought I would like, finding books for me to read and willing to encourage me when she saw I was down. I will miss her smile and riding by the trailer in her little red car waving hi to me during the summer days. To her family, I am sorry you are going through this loss, we will see her again in heaven.
